

Harold R. Matthews Award

Established in July of 1966, the award was previously named Bird of the Year.

The Bird of the Year is selected on the basis of his personal effort and contribution to the improvement of Camp Willson. In view of his long personal commitment to the betterment of the camp it appeared most fitting to link the Harold R. Matthews award with the Bird of the Year recognition.

The Bird of the Year trophy goes to the winner of the Harold R. Matthews Memorial Award, presented annually to the Men's Camper judged to have made an exceptional personal contribution (other than money) to camp improvements.

The winner will be added to a plaque at the camp and a smaller plaque will be given to the recipient.

The recipient is chosen by the Men's Camp Council.

PIZZLETREE AWARD

The 1946 definition of the Pizzletree Award:

Given each year to the man who has, in the minds of the camp council, contributed the most toward making the camp a success. Final judgment is based on sportsmanship, friendliness, cooperation and things of that nature rather than ability.

In 1959, it was the highest honor a men's camper could earn.

In 1969, it was given to the outstanding men's camper for his adherence to traditions and fellowship that are the heart and soul of the Columbus YMCA's Men's Camp.

The recipient's name is added to the Pizzletree trophy and the recipient is given a small plaque. The Men's Camp Council chooses the recipient and it is presented during Men's Camp.

Berliner Award

Presented to the individual at Men's Camp who shows so many of the traits brought to this camp by Louis Berliner such as a caring for his fellow camper
a great sense of humor
a sincere interest in Camp Willson and most of all the ability to laugh and have fun with this award goes the everlasting memory of Lou.
He will always be a part of us here at camp
and he will never be forgotten.

Presented to Men's camp by his many friends
